10 JOB SITES · ALL STARTUP-FRIENDLY

THE STARTUP JOB LIST

Ten places to find startup jobs that beat scrolling LinkedIn, with the link to each and what it's best for.

WHAT THIS IS

I got my startup job without applying anywhere: I sent the founder one cold message. You still need to know which companies are hiring, though, and these are the places I'd look. I checked every link on 2 November 2026.

> The honest promise. A job board puts you in the same queue as everyone else. To skip it, find the role here, then message the person who runs the team directly with a small piece of the work already done.

HOW TO USE THE LIST

1. Pick three companies you'd love to work at from these boards.
2. Find who runs the team and read their last 20 posts.
3. Message them directly. Open with something they wrote, and send a small piece of the job, done, before they ask for it.
